AN INTRODUCTION TO NORWICH

Norwich is England's most complete medieval city and England's first UNESCO City of Literature, joining a prestigious network of cities worldwide, boasting historic cobbled lanes and many buildings dating back to the Tudor period. Once the capital of the East Anglia region, Norwich boasts historic and social charm with award-winning entertainment – including clubs on campus and in the city centre – hosting several arts and literary festivals each year. Norwich is listed as one of the premiere shopping cities in the country with a mix of independent boutiques, large department stores and shopping malls, also reputed to be one of the safest cities in the UK.

The glorious sandy beaches of the North Sea coastline are just 23 miles from Norwich, with London less than two hours by train and regular daily access further afield by rail and coach networks.

Norwich International Airport provides daily global links via Amsterdam. Students connecting with the UK through London airports travel easily from Norwich by rail from Liverpool Street train station or via coach (MegaBus and National Express travel directly to campus) from London Heathrow and London Victoria.
